DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-9, 29, 30-34, drawn to an attenuated bacterium.

Group II, claim(s) 10-15, drawn to a method of identifying an antibacterial drug using a polypeptide.

Group III, claim(s) 16-20, drawn to a method of identifying an antibacterial drug using a polynucleotide.

Group IV, claim(s) 21-22, drawn to a nucleic acid.

Group V, claim(s) 23-28, drawn to a method for determining degree of virulence in a pathogen.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Groups II, III and V lack the same special technical feature because they are drawn to different methods with distinct end results, which differ in the method objectives, method steps, reagents and material used. Groups I and IV contain different special technical features because they are drawn to materially and structurally distinct products, e.g., an attenuated bacterium and an isolated nucleic acid. The method of Group II uses an isolated polypeptide, not the attenuated bacterium of Group I and therefore the groups lack the same special technical feature. The invention of Group I lacks novelty and therefore does not relate to a single general inventive concept with the other Groups. Cosson et al. J.Bacteriol. 184(11): 3027-3033. June 2002. teaches an attenuated bacterium meeting the requirements of Group I.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Group I:

In claims 1 and 33 Applicant must elect a single gene, e.g., VIR1, and a single bacterial species in claims 4 or 7, and a single mutant species of claims 6 or 9.

Group II:

Applicant must elect a single gene species, e.g, VIR1.

Group III:

Applicant must elect a single gene species, e.g, VIR1.

Group IV:

Applicant must elect a single gene species, e.g, VIR1.

Group V:

Applicant must elect a single gene species to be used in the method, e.g, VIR1.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1645

The following claim(s) are generic: 1, 10, 16, 23 and 26.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. Correspondence regarding this application should be directed to Group Art Unit 1645. Papers related to this application may be submitted to Group 1600 by facsimile transmission. Papers should be faxed to Group 1600 via the PTO Fax Center located in Remsen.
